The Reflector.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1888

"The Electoral College has no yell," remarks a contemporary. This is a mistake; its yell is "Harrison and Morton."

The improvements at Fort Riley, completed and under contract, amount to $588,752.19. In this is included a $45,000 water works plant and $81,000 steam heating plant.

Senator Voorhees will make a speech on the tariff. We hope he will stir up Ingalls again. Another of the Kansas Senator's little doses of satire would make a good Christmas story.

Pensioning the ex-Presidents is a question now coming up again. Cleveland and Hayes will be the only ones to enjoy a pension for eight years to come, should there be a provision made for such a matter.

The members elect to the Legislature from the Fifth and Sixth Congressional districts met at Beloit last week and pledged themselves to support Z. T. Walrond, of Osborne county, for Speaker of the House.—Parsons Sun.

South Carolina is the one State making most noise about the injustice done her by the present suffrage qualifications. South Carolina cast 79,565 votes at the last election, and has seven Congressmen representing her at Washington.

Let every editor in the Northwest publish and comment upon the interview of Senator Rush, from Larned, that was published last Friday in the Topeka Capital-Commonwealth. No greater insult could be offered to the people of the Northwest than is contained in this short interview.

A total eclipse of the sun will occur January 1st. It will be visible in Kansas just before sunset as a partial eclipse. The path of totality will enter the United States between San Francisco and Cape Mendocino, and passing east through California, northwestern Nevada, Idaho and Montana, will terminate in northwestern Manitoba at sunset.

The Abilene Reflector bobs up with Z. T. Walrond as a candidate for Speaker of the next House.—Wichita Journal.

That is just the way we "bob," gentlemen. We are in favor of giving the North and West of Kansas a show and propose to do some hard fighting on that line between now and the meeting of the Legislature.

The Globe Democrat is demanding that the direct tax levied on the States in 1861 and 1862 should either be refunded by the government to the States which paid it, or the States which failed to pay it should be compelled to call at the captain's office and settle. The former plan is the preferable one, but common justice and fairness demand that the latter should be adopted if the other be defeated.

The Wichita Eagle has this: It is urged in high quarters that a part of the surplus could not be used to a better advantage than to build huge reservoirs at the mouths of the Rocky Mountain gulches, which would not only prevent the disastrous floods caused by the high waters of the rivers Mississippi, Arkansas and Red, but could be used to convert the arid strip of land, 800 miles long by 300 in breadth, the Great American Desert, into green fields, and thus make it inhabitable. Something like a quarter of a million dollars was appropriated by the last Congress and is now being expended in making scientific investigation of the reservoir scheme and if the reports of the experts engaged in the work shall be favorable there is little doubt that the government will engage in the undertaking on an extensive scale.

Condensed Editorials.

K. C. Journal: Gen. Harrison will be President himself. In the canvass the Democrats and Mugwumps thought him weak. They thought him a figurehead for Blaine. They were frightened. During campaign he impressed all with his masterful mind and the impression still continues. His silence regarding the Cabinet is admirable. The Democrats will keep on guessing but nobody will know till Mr. Harrison tells. When the names are sent in they will be of men calculated to make the administration successful.

A BLESSING FROM ANNEXATION.
N. Y. Sun: Five public questions of prime importance would be settled, easily and naturally, by the annexation of Canada to the United States. These are the fisheries, the fortification of the northern border, the complication arising from the Inter-State Commerce law applying to one country and not to the other, the navigation of the Canadian waterways, and the custom duties between the two countries. In all Canada would be most benefited. Another blessing would be numerically overwhelming the Solid South. That is sure to be done by the West some day soon. Political differences make business friendliness between North and South difficult. The South would not like to be overpowered. Democracy, its keynote and keystone, would be relieved of a peculiar difficulty.

ADMITTING NEW MEXICO.
New York Tribune: The Democratic caucus of the House has decided in favor of admitting New Mexico in the bill with the Northwest Territory. New Mexico has sufficient population but in civilization is where it was in 1776. Its population is not American but Spanish. The average of intelligence is low. We made a mistake in admitting Nevada. Do not repeat it. The Northwest Territories are fit State material. They can safely be invited in. New Mexico should wait until she is Americanized.

A RESPONSIBLE PARTY.
Emporia Republican: The Democrats say that the Republicans will have a big responsibility during the next four years. They are good for it. They carried the Nation through the civil war and never made such failures as have the Democrats. They accept the trust. The Republican party is a party that is not afraid of responsibility. It is a party that thrives on responsibilities, because it knows how to meet them.

The Next Speaker.
The Clay Center Times has the following enthusiastic sketch of Hon. Z. T. Walrond, who is the choice of the Northwest for speaker of the next Kansas House of Representatives:
Z. T. Walrond, the man whom the members of the House from the Fifth and Sixth congressional districts have concluded to support for Speaker, is a resident of Osborne, Osborne county, he was born in Kentucky 41 years ago and now enjoys the distinction of being the oldest actual settler of Osborne county, having homesteaded there 18 years ago. He was the first justice of the peace, and from 1874 to 1878 served as register of deeds. In '74 was admitted to the bar and at once took high standing in the Northwest and shining legal lights. From '81 to '85 was county attorney and in '86 was elected to the House and was appointed a member of the judiciary committee. He gained high rank with his colleagues and was one of the most useful members. Last fall he was re-elected practically without opposition. Mr. Walrond is a man of the highest character and unbounded popularity in his own district. No man stands higher or closer in the affections of his home people. He is a convincing speaker, clear headed and logical and will make as good an officer as the Kansas House of Representatives ever had.

Edgar Fawcett, the story writer, is mad because the New York critics have been pointing out bad grammar in his novels. Serves him right. If he were to follow the craze and write only dialect stories, he wouldn't have to put any grammar in 'em.

Booth's Grabbing Act.
Senator Rush has recently given vent to the following comment on the letter of Hon. J. R. Burton:

No greater compliment could have been paid to the Southwest, its politicians and the business enterprise of that section; not forgetting the compliment paid the Santa Fe Railroad company, in claiming that they always stood ready to assist any enterprise, all of which is very true. They are with us in time of need as well as prosperity. The politicians and business men owe Mr. Burton much for this able article; it is full of truth and facts, and many towns along the Santa Fe which in the past two years have subscribed liberally toward having their attractions written up, were not benefited half as much as promises to result from the Burton letter. The Southwest owes Mr. Burton a debt of everlasting gratitude; but we are of the opinion that the letter will not have the effect on the Legislature which was intended. Captain Henry Booth is the subject of the letter and could well afford to present Mr. Burton with $500 as a Christmas present, and if I were a politician and in the line of promotion, I should feel under personal obligations to Mr. Burton for as able an article thus published. The letter will not cement the Northwest, but the Southwest will again come to the front as a unit, and Captain Henry Booth will undoubtedly be elected Speaker or the next House.

Senator Rush lives at Larned. He is the State Senator elect from his district. He has held that office already for four years. He is a wealthy banker. He is a warm friend of Mr. Booth's. What he says therefore can be taken as the position of Mr. Booth and his friends in this contest.

What is that position? First, boiled down in a few words, it is this: He says Mr. Burton's letter is true, that is that the Southwest has been aided by the Santa Fe Railroad politically more than it has commercially. Second: That the Southwest has more than its share politically in fact has well nigh everything. Third: It intends to have everything else in sight. Fourth: What is the balance of the State going to do about it? The Northwest will not be cemented says the Senator. The Southwest will come up as a unit for Mr. Booth, says Mr. Rush.

How does any member from the Northwest like this kind of talk? How does any member from the Southeast portion of the State like it? What do the members of the Northeast portion of the State think of it?

The pretentious little village of Larned for years had the Register and Receiver of the U. S. Land Office. Mr. Booth was an incumbent of one of these offices. Last summer this same city had one of the delegates-at-large to Chicago. It also had the chairman of the last Republican State convention. It has the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. It has had for four years past the State Senator from that district. It has the State Auditor-elect. It has the State Auditor-elect. It has two candidates for Federal positions, Mr. Booth being one of them; and in the face of all this Senator Rush gives it out that Larned will have the Speaker.

The little Senator's assurance reminds us of the impudence of Boss Tweed when he was arraigned for pilfering from the treasury of New York City. Stepping in front of the footlights he said with unblinking effrontery, "We have got your money and what are you going to do about it?" But Mr. Rush should remember that Boss Tweed died in jail.

Large packing houses are being established at Hutchinson. It is strange that capitalists should stop at that city rather than go on to Larned, certainly there are more homes at the latter place than can be found at the former.

Several hundred editors are just now discussing the matter of lifting one's hat to a lady, and many think it an unnecessary and troublesome form. It seems to us that it is no more than reasonably due to the gentler sex. This simple act of courtesy is not at all an excess in value over the pleasant smile of a lady—if she be a lady.

Read Your Paroles.
General Chalmers, of Mississippi, recently called on General Harrison and drew from the President elect the most pronounced utterance yet given by him on the "Southern question," to the effect that he will say to the Southern people, "Go home and read over again your paroles, in which you pledged your honor to abide by the laws of your country. It is no harder yoke for you to bear than it is for me. I have to obey the laws of the United States and so must you."

We have not the exact language used just at hand, but the above is in substance the gist of it. Read it over carefully and you will find an ordinary five column nonpareil speech boiled down to about seven lines of the soundest argument yet delivered on the question. Some other person once said that he would direct the attention of the Southern people to the Constitution of the United States, which was a quip well worth remembering, but General Harrison has turned back the pages of history for over a quarter of a century with one flip of his finger and cites the brigadiers to the documents which they signed at Vicksburg, at Gettysburg, at Appomattox. And as it has been the proud boast of the Southerner that his word of honor is as good as his soul, let him now cogitate over that pledged honor and resolve to be the gentleman that he has neglected to be for so many years.—[Beloit Courier.]

All debts, notes and accounts due the firm will be paid to E. J. Lewis, and he will pay all the debts of the firm. The business will hereafter be carried on at the old stand on Buckeye Ave., near the R. I. depot by E. J. Lewis. 191-21&15-31

The dry cold weather of the early winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and that symptom is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided; it has never failed, even in the most severe cases. There is no danger in giving the Remedy for it contains no injurious substances. For sale by Barnes & Northcraft.

Dr. Caty's Condition Powders. They tone up the digestive organs, free the system of worms, give the horses a good appetite, causing them to shed freely and putting them in shape for hard work. For sale by Barnes & Northcraft.

Found by Accident.

BALTIMORE, Md., January 28th, 1889.
I have been a sufferer for six years with Catarrh, Ulcerated Sore Throat and Rheumatism of the chest, from blood poison. About four weeks ago I was passing the Botanic Blood Balm store, No. 8 North street, Baltimore. I went in and counted my money. The proprietor, Mr. B. B. I saw one of your B. B. "Book of Wonders," which I read. I called in a few days afterward and got a bottle of your "Botanic Blood Balm." B. B. I am now on the third bottle and will say that I have felt a marked improvement since the third day after commencing to use your medicine. I now have no trouble
